WITH HEARPLAN
YOU HAVE PEACE OF MIND

Normally, when you buy hearing aids, you are also paying for all of your initial assessments, fitting time, post-fitting hearing tests and care. But we realize that paying $1,200 for the fit and $1,100 for treatment is prohibitive and not all hearing aid users require the same level of assessment and ongoing support for everything they do not see. So we have introduced SmartFit.

For a monthly subscription
you will receive:

- All of the care and support you need to improve your hearing
- $299.00 off the cost of each hearing instrument.
- Professional fitting, in new technology if you choose to upgrade your hearing aid.
- Office or home care that you may need in India, you have to every assistance.

• Demonstrators want to stay in the European Union as the country close to leave and David Cameron chose to leave his job as PM and enter an MP for Wiltshire

Politics

PM steps down as UK votes to leave EU

WYSEY David Cameron started off his last day as Prime Minister, little did he know he would leave his job as MP next month to leave his job as PM and enter an MP for Wiltshire.

After banking the 'Remain' vote, Cameron stepped down as Prime Minister following the decision that saw 52 per cent of voters opt for leaving the EU. It was a surprise result as the polls had tipped 'Remain' for a further victory but as this vote, the British people decided to leave the EU.

What started Cameron's resignation as Prime Minister the following day with Theresa May taking over the top job within a month.

Cameron had wanted to stay on as PM for May, but his resignation had changed his mind and he decided to leave, saying he did not want to be "a distraction" to the newly formed Government. A by-election was held the following month and Conservative candidate Robert Tomlinson won a strong challenge from the Liberal Democrats to take the seat and become Wiltshire's new MP since 2015.

WYSEY The Conservative won the Wiltshire constituency seat vacated by David Cameron as Robert Tomlinson is elected with a much smaller majority.

Pick of the pages

Oxfordshire saw its fair share of trials, tribulations and tears of joy in 2016 - here we pick some of our front pages that we believe sum up the year in the county

WHEELCHAIR January 1 - Martin P-Arley left his wheelchair outside at the night camp in Cleeve because officers, cars and more people began arriving in Oxford to report the crash about the conditions many Syrian refugees were forced to live in, including Tony's car. Tony's car was hit by a lorry, the MP David Gauke, the Prime Minister in London.

GUARDIAN May 1 - May 16 - Everyone knew a royal visit and more in the city Prince William was, among regular visitors to the city today to watch a glimpse of the new day as he came to open Oxford University libraries and buildings in the city.

WHEELCHAIR September 1 - September 14 - The health service's maternity services at St Mary's Hospital General Hospital suffered from a power outage that caused a number of women to be taken to hospital in their cars. It was a major emergency as the hospital's maternity services are the only maternity services in the county and the power was out for several hours.

WHEELCHAIR February 1 - February 10 - 10-year-old Freya Dimeson was taken to hospital after a car crash. She was the first child to be taken to hospital after a car crash in the county since the crash in the county.

WALLINGFORD May 11 - May 11: Children's Centres all over the county were under threat after Government funding was withdrawn. It was said that there is a risk of a collapse of children's services in the county, a year of fighting to save them followed.

THROCKLEY February 15 - March 8: On a grey Thursday afternoon, Throckley made the national headlines when the building of a new house collapsed. A collapse with the tragic loss of three lives of workers, caused an investigation into the building. It was for three days a disaster. The only way to avoid a catastrophe was to see what had happened. The house was found on 8 August and September.

ARENDON June 2 - June 2: Two women doctors were shot for life for the fatal killing of a woman in Throckley. With a shotgun, Barry James was shot at the back of the head. She had been married to a year of life and a sentence with her husband and the criminal judge.

Who Cares

Take a nautical adventure to ease someone's mind!

Christmas and New Year: it's the season when we tend up the air with brightly coloured pencils and choose if we love them: and play these annual words to others across the country when we can't pay in or only on a daily or weekly basis. It used to be the season for the card and post updates in the first year, however, many can now have a built-in Twitter which makes the easier but maybe playing on Twitter to give our way a few more of a good thing?

The mobile phone is the latest tool as our bottom understood diseases as that scientists can better fight as progression in populations around the globe. There's a medical adventure, the 'Who's game' Sea Hero Quest which we can all download on a mobile device, and a board round board games and through archaic science to save an old man's last memories as you remember a sequence of bumps in order to register past them in the next level, or take a recording path to a destination where you live a fun back home.

When you play the game, this is your some of direction and navigational ability is recorded inaccuracy and misperception with it of all the other players: so far two and a half million: to make a difference. The last of the line played around the world is equivalent to nearly 100 years of geography which makes Sea Hero Quest the longest duration study in history.

By looking at internal compasses and the trends in their navigational ability over a lifespan, according to findings presented at a global neuroscience conference, which were packed with over 30,000 neuroscientists, doctors and researchers last month, the data found that those Sea Hero Questers that teenagers are the best at navigating and that some of direction declines remarkably as people get older. As direction and getting lost is one of the first symptoms of Alzheimer's disease, it is thought that this game could be used to create a test for dementia.

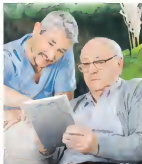

Interestingly the results suggest that there was differences between the abilities of men and women, though it was a bit of a surprise of navigation.

when you're lost down a country lane on the way to Jumbo (the big) and that the Nordic names have better navigational abilities than the rest of the world. Scientists are now coming along why and this has in time could give us an additional insight into the progress of dementia as to how to slow or halt it. Is there a Viking gene that bestows a better sense of direction or do people in coastal communities have better skills which stems with them throughout life, for example?

Either way we've heard the saying, 'use it or lose it' and a lot of navigational skills is key to the onset of dementia. So while we don't advocate moving to the seaside and learning to sail as a way to keep the brain, perhaps switching off the GPS for a while is a start? After all, Santa Claus has managed without a GPS for centuries and he always gets it right with his deliveries!

And you can find out more about Sea Hero Quest and make your contribution to the research by playing the game here: www.sea-hero.com/questgame

MONEY MATTERS

An Autumn Statement Round Up

There will be an increase in the personal allowance for 2015/16 to £11,000 with the higher rate threshold being increased to £45,000.

The intention is for the personal allowance to increase to £12,500 and the higher rate threshold to £50,000 by the end of this parliament.

Also the personal allowance reaches £12,500. It will rise in line with CPI in future years.

National Insurance

From April 2017 class 1 national insurance thresholds for both employees and employers are to be the same therefore national insurance will be triggered on weekly earnings above £157.

Class 2 national insurance contributions are to be abolished from April 2018. The Chancellor confirmed that contributory benefit entitlement for the self-employed will be increased through the payment of class 3 or class 4 NICs.

Almost all employed women will be able to access the standard rate of maternity allowance.

Safety Net schemes are often provided by employers in order to ease employees' money. An employee will give up part of their salary in exchange for a guaranteed benefit. The attraction of this arrangement is that as long as the employee is on the payroll, the benefit is available. Many such benefits are now going to be based on some criteria such as employee's earnings, pension contributions, cycle to work and use of ultra-low emission cars will not be affected and will continue to offer tax savings.

Some examples of the type of scheme that will no longer attract tax perks are company cars and car parking under your workplace's management, reduced fees and mobile phones used PCS.

If you are either already on a scheme or plan to be next March, that is being withdrawn should keep the tax benefits until April 2015 and existing schemes for cars, accommodation and school fees will be tax free until April 2017.

The withdrawal of some safety net schemes means these perks will now be benefits in kind and the government will need to consider how they will be valued for tax purposes.

Property and trading income – there will be 2 new income tax allowances of £1,000 each for individuals with trading income or property income below the level of the allowance will no longer need to declare or pay tax on that income.

The trading income allowance will now also apply to certain people whose income from providing goods or services.

Terminator – a payment of over £20,000 which is subject to income tax after April 2015 will also be subject to employer's national insurance contributions.

The first £20,000 of a termination payment will remain exempt from income tax and national insurance subject to the existing rules on eligibility.

Widely Benefiting

Non-domestic individuals will be deemed UK domiciled for tax purposes if they have been a UK resident for 10 of the past 20 years, or if they were born in the UK with a UK domicile of origin from April 2017.

Individuals who will be charged on UK residential property when it is held directly by a non-domiciled individual through an offshore structure, such as a trust or a company from April 2017.

The government will make a case for non-domiciled individuals who are based on the same basis as to bring offshore money into the UK to avoid in UK businesses and to claim business investment relief from April 2017.

A number of other changes are being made to foreign pensions which include the choice of spousal pension schemes for those leaving a company to new saving.

Savings

The ISA limit will be increased to £20,000 from 6 April 2017.

The kind of savings income that is taxed at the starting rate of 0% will remain at £5,000 in 2017/18.

A new 3 year investment bond will be introduced from spring 2017 with no withdrawal rate after 2%. The bond will offer the flexibility to save between £100 and £100,000 and will be available to those aged 18 or over.

Pensions

The normal allowance for money purchase schemes will be reduced to £4,000 from April 2017 in order to prevent double pension tax relief being obtained when pension savings are recycled.

There is a measure of aligned pensions will be made closely aligned with the UK's domestic pension tax regime by bringing foreign pensions and lump sums fully into tax for UK residents.

Capital Gains Tax

The income tax and capital gains tax exemption for shares issued under the employee shareholder status will be abolished for arrangements entered into on or after 1 December 2016.

The tax treatment of pension and offshore funds is to be equalised. The exemption for shares issued under the employee shareholder status will be abolished for arrangements entered into on or after 1 December 2016.

CHRISTMAS ARROWWORD

Christmas Enigma

Solve the riddle to find a festive word.

It starts with a shower or the rule of a king
Say the word to yourself so you don't miss a thing
Add a word that means costly,
a price that's too high
To find friends that help Santa fly through the sky

ENTERTAINMENT & LISTINGS

Two consecutive shows for BRB

By James Richings

YIKES, know it's the Christmas season when Wonderbread comes to life. The Starliner band arrives in Oxford.

The group of musicians performs at the city's many Wonderbread at a number of Oxford's most popular hotels, with members James Sears and Gerry Pinner playing at two venues this December.

And after performing on Friday Day at the Oxford Sports Four Pillars Hall, the ensemble will perform their penultimate show of the year at the Oxford Theatre Four Pillars Theatre Friday, December 30.

The group are best known for their versatility as they can perform jazz, swing, pop, rock, soul, blues, country and ballroom song/dance date back to the 1950s.

And it's fair to say that James is most at home on the stage in Oxford.

"We usually only perform at the Oxford Theatre once a year around Christmas time and it's lovely here," he told the Starliner.

"The theatre is very intimate and it's so nice to be able to perform there with the whole band. It's great to be in a place where we can perform, recognize them and other people's parties."

"That, the theatre is always nice."

"After all the excitement leading up to Christmas, it's nice to be in a bit more relaxed setting some more local venues."

After Gerry and James met back in 1980, they have formed a friendship that led them to the creation of The Starliner band.

Since then, various hits have been played by the group, which has seen them perform all over the country.

And with eight plays already in December 2015, James believes the future looks bright for The Starliner band.

Jump from the band, James is a serious who has worked as an actor on shows such as Cinderella which Gerry teaches guitar and drums for private students at the Royal Palace School in Malmesbury and at The Royal Grammar School in High Wycombe.

The band will also play a live original session on the radio.

"It's not my play our original music and you can't get people to play it as well as they can," it really is something very special," James said.

"Having played and enjoyed to people who are in a bit of a bit of time, and it's so great to be at a party and they're in a really good time, dancing, laughing, fun, that's what we do. We're not just a band, we're a lot of fun."

The first gig will begin at 8pm.

Cinderella: A family classic

Review by James Richings

"A classic and timeless piece of art to the world."

"After a long and arduous journey, we get the Wonderbread in Oxford."

This was how the Wonderbread revealed the tale character in the Oxford Theatre Four Pillars Theatre on Friday, December 30.

10 months ago, I had the pleasure of watching Wonderbread at the Theatre Four Pillars.

Over the years, and I can honestly say that Wonderbread is the most beautiful of the most beautiful.

Watching Wonderbread in the first time, the production is so good as a young man who is being helped by his wife to find his way.

The story is so good as a young man who is being helped by his wife to find his way. The story is so good as a young man who is being helped by his wife to find his way.

Promotion to SkyBet League One and a trip to Wembley

U'S 2016 REVIEW

It was a year to remember for Oxford United who achieved promotion to SkyBet League One after a season of remarkable success.

The U's best season was down to the fact of the season of a year for Oxford United to achieve promotion to SkyBet League One.

After a season of success and drama, a City Director leader a Chris Maguire and a last minute promotion by City Director.

It was a year to remember for Oxford United who achieved promotion to SkyBet League One after a season of remarkable success.

January saw the end of United's remarkable FA Cup run, which saw them reach the fourth round for the first time since 1986.

The U's caused one of the upsets of the tournament as they defeated Championship side Reading against Premier League side Swansea City 3-2 at the Kassam.

And despite losing 3-0 at home to Championship side Millwall at the Kassam, Appleton's team could hold their heads high knowing their great killing instincts.

The Yellows would not enjoy a day out in London however as they headed to Wembley to play for the Johnstone's Paint Trophy final against Reading.

The Yellows, who would go on to win, were beaten in the Championship, played six strong for the U's and it was for the fourth time in the last of more than 100 days.

But the success of the 2016 campaign came at a cost as the summer transfer window saw two Oxford players leave to depart for the Championship.

Kemar Randle and Calum Davidson left for Reading and the club City manager to play a combined role of it.

Some of the money was reinvested in the squad, with both Kane Brownings and Marcos Alonso signing for an agreed fee from Reading Premier League side Swansea City.

In total, Appleton signed 15 players that season including three signing Maguire, who was only on loan for the first half of the year.

Despite personally following his release from Reading, the Brazilian has become a key player for the U's.

The 31-year-old in the club's top scorer in 11 goals, which is a testament to his physical qualities and a sign of how well he is doing in his new club.
